SPANISH LANGUAGE PHILIPPIANS & COLOSSIANS

Joy of Living is pleased to announce the release of an all new Spanish Language study of Philippians and Colossians (Filipenses y Colosenses). The English version of this study was originally written by Joy of Living founder, Doris Greig. It was revised and updated in 2002 by her daughter, Kathy Rowland.

The 9-lesson Spanish translation matches the English version and would be excellent for use with a bilingual class.

Joy of Living currently has 13 courses that have been translated into Spanish. Please let your Spanish speaking friends and neighbors know. If you know of missionaries to Spanish-speaking countries, let them know of these Spanish language resources and that we offer duplication rights to missionaries outside the United States.

The translator, Amarilis Nunn, is the Project Engineer for a shipping company. She graduated from Simon Bolivar University, with postgraduate degrees from Christian Brothers University and Trinity College of the Bible Theological Seminary. She is a native of Caracas and currently resides in West Tennessee with her husband Eddie.

See the Order Form for price and ordering information.

IDEAS FOR USING JOY OF LIVING BIBLE STUDIES

As you may know, Joy of Living Bible Studies are a unique Bible study series that may be used by people who know nothing about the Bible, as well as by more knowledgeable Christians. Each person is nurtured and disciplined in God's Word, and many develop a personal relationship with Jesus Christ as they study.

The following will give you some ideas on how you can use these studies:

Individual Bible Study

We encourage you to do one lesson each week, working according to the daily study plan given in each lesson. Plan to spend about one-half hour daily.

Take advantage of opportunities God gives you to share what He has been teaching you through your study. Let the Holy Spirit guide you as to when, where, and with whom to share.

One on One Bible Study

You may decide to invite someone to do the study with you. Each of you would do your daily study questions at home, then meet together weekly to discuss the lesson.

Informal Small Group Bible Study

There are numerous options for informal small group studies: a daytime women's study, an evening men's or women's study, an evening couples study, a singles group study, an office co-workers group study, etc. Meeting facilities could range from the usual meeting places, such as a home or church, to such places as a conference room in an office, a private room of a local restaurant, a meeting room at a YMCA or YWCA, even outside at a park when the weather permits.

We suggest doing one lesson each week, working according to the daily study plan given in each lesson. Each individual should complete the daily study questions at home during the week before the group meets. Plan to spend about one-half hour daily.

In an informal small group study, the leader facilitates the discussion of the written answers to the questions, but does not necessarily give a lecture. It is helpful for the leader to be familiar with the Joy of Living commentary on the Bible passage being covered, which is found at the beginning of the next lesson.

If the number attending rises above 15, break up into smaller discussion groups which meet in different rooms, if possible. There is more opportunity for individuals to share in a smaller group.

Church-Sponsored Bible Study

The possibilities for the use of these materials within the church are numerous. Joy of Living Bible studies can be used for women's groups, men's groups, Sunday School classes, in midweek and Sunday evening services, and as Christian day school curriculum. Other possibilities include groups for couples, single young adults, and senior citizen groups, to name a few. These Bible studies are also being used on the mission field. (Contact the Joy of Living office for special arrangements.)

Interdenominational Bible Study

Joy of Living study materials are interdenominational and evangelical, meaning they contain the basic fundamental truths of the Bible and avoid the controversial issues that tend to divide evangelicals (i.e., speaking in tongues and methods of baptism). For this reason they are ideal for use in an interdenominational Bible study group.

This is an excerpt from the Joy of Living Leadership Training Guide. You may download this training guide from our website at www.joyofliving.org. One printed copy is available free of charge with any purchase, just request one when you place your order. Multiple printed copies are available for $3.00 each. NEW GOSPEL OF JOHN EXCERPT

The following is an excerpt from the all new Gospel of John Part 1. See the Order Form for price and ordering information.

While in Galilee, Jesus visited Cana, where He had previously turned water into wine. There was a royal official in Capernaum whose son was extremely ill, near to death. When the man learned that Jesus was there, he went to Him and begged Jesus to travel with him the 16 miles to Capernaum and heal his son. Jesus came right to the point, saying, "Unless you people see signs and wonders, you will never believe" (John 4:48). The man was desperate and continued to beg Jesus, who said, "Go, your son will live." The royal official had a choice—believe the Lord, or don't believe Him. He chose to believe Him, and began his journey home. While he was still traveling, he met his servants, who had come to tell him the good news that his son was well. When he discovered that his son became better at the moment Jesus said, "Your son will live," he and his entire household put their faith in the Lord.

When everything is going smoothly in our lives it is easy to say, "I'm trusting God." But when things become difficult and we don't know what to do, when we've tried everything and we are faced with the impossible, it is then that we are faced with whether we trust God or not.

Trusting God (faith), isn't a matter of "positive thinking"—that is, believing that if we think enough positive thoughts about what outcome we want, then it will happen. No, it is a matter of actually trusting God—believing that He is who He says He is, and that He will do what He says He will do. Let's consider this now. God says that He is:

- all knowing (omniscient) — see Psalm 147:5b
- all powerful (omnipotent) — see Revelation 19:6
- present everywhere (omnipresent) — see Psalm 139:7-10

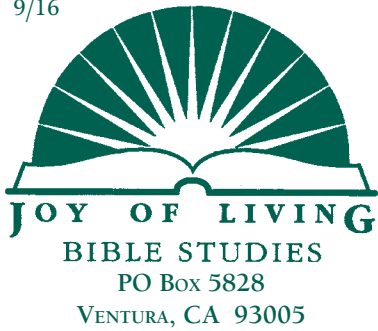

If you truly believe this, then you know that He is aware of whatever problem you are facing, that He is there with you in the midst of it, and that He is able to do something about it.

Next consider that the Scriptures tell us, "God is love" (1 John 4:16b). Love is not just a warm, fuzzy feeling. Love always does what is best for the one who is loved (see 1 Corinthians 13:4-7). And finally, 1 John 5:14-15 tells us, "This is the confidence we have in approaching God: that if we ask anything according to his will, he hears us. And if we know that he hears us—whatever we ask—we know that we have what we asked of him." And Romans 8:28 says, "And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose."

So now you have a choice. Do you believe that God loves you, that He will always do what is best for those He loves, and that He will answer your prayer in the way you want if it is according to His will—that is, according to what is best? And if He doesn't answer the way you want, do you believe that it is still what is best? After all, He has all the facts, He is a lot wiser than you are, and He loves everyone who is involved more than you do.

Portrait of Integrity

The Life of Ray C. Stedman

by Mark S. Mitchell

(From Discovery House Publishers)

Abandoned by his father when he was a young boy and emotionally cut-off from his mother, Ray Stedman had a ruggedly independent upbringing. Yet, through faith, he matured into one of the great pastors, expositors, and spiritual leaders of the twentieth century.

Today's church is filled with pastors and leaders—men like Charles Swindol and Luis Palau—who consider him their mentor and lifelong friend.

Joy of Living Studies by Ray Stedman include: Job, Psalms of Faith, Psalms from the Heart, Nehemiah, Prophecy in Daniel, Highlights of the Old Testament, Gospel of Mark, Acts, Romans, Ephesians and Revelation. See page 3 for prices of individual studies.
